AMA Indicates Approval of ISC

○ Dr. Glen R. Leymaster, associate secretary of the American Medical Association, has indicated to President Willis E. Pratt of Indiana State College that Indiana State College is acceptable in general terms for the undergraduate education at the collegiate level in preparation for medical schools.

The College at Indiana is accredited by the Middle State Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which accreditation the American Medical Association accepts in general terms.

Individual medical schools are particularly concerned about specific courses and the quality of courses for which their applicants present credentials. This matter is entirely within the preferences of the individual medical school and the college which provides pre-medical training.

"Therefore, Indiana State College," Dr. Pratt said, "is through Dr. Ralph W. Cordier, dean of academic affairs, preparing a study of our liberal arts curricula with a view to having medical schools and the American Medical Association review and advise concerning the specific type of pre-professional education medical schools now require."

Miss Marian Francis read the minutes of the Executive Committee meeting which was held at the college on Saturday, September 29, 1962.

Miss Brennan announced that the committee discussion concerned 1) increasing membership in the Association and 2) a memorial to Miss Jennie Ackerman, former Director of the Teacher Training Program. She stated that she had appointed a committee to work on the Ackerman memorial and the committee will report at the May 1963 alumni meeting. The personnel of the committee is Dr. Willis E. Pratt, member ex officio; Mrs. Flossie Sanford, chairman; Miss Mary L. Esch, secretary; Miss Angie Marshall; Mrs. Sally Johnston; and Mr. Roy Ankeny. Miss Brennan stated that the committee would hold a planning meeting early in November.

Miss Brennan congratulated President Pratt on being awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws Degree at the 175th Anniversary Alumni Honors Convocation of the University of Pittsburgh on September 17, 1962. She stated that this was the first big recognition the University has given Education. Dr. Pratt was then asked to address the group.

Dr. Pratt welcomed the Alumni to campus. He spoke of the increased enrollment and the growth of the college plant—the new buildings under construction and those to be built within the near future. Dr. Pratt stated that within the next twenty years there would be 30 modern buildings on campus, and that John Sutton Hall would probably be razed within the next ten years.

Miss Brennan then called upon Coach Morton (Chuck) Mills to speak to the alumni.

Coach Mills stated that football is divided into two major areas—the part it plays for the non-athlete and the service it renders to the athlete himself. To the non-participant it is an exercise in patriotism to support the team and be loyal when it loses as well as when it wins. This quality of loyalty is a basic need in our society and in all of us. Football is a common denominator through which conversation and information about a college may begin, and often serves as a "calling card" of the college. It is a subject matter vehicle that allows the alumni and others to be proud of the college.

To the participant it is a great experience. It involves a lesson in patriotism, but we must add discipline and sacrifice and I think the aspect of discipline is most important. It is a source of self respect and satisfaction to the participant. It provides the healthy energy that will lead to capable study habits. In fact, many colleges and universities have found that the athlete has a better over-all grade point average than does the student body in general.

In conclusion, Mr. Mills stated that he feels honored to be associated with the new stadium in its first year and he expressed the hope that can serve the college with the same interest, humility, and concern as was shown by his predecessors, Mr. George P. Miller and Mr. Samuel G. Smith.

Dr. Arthur F. Nicholson spoke on the Alumni News Bulletin. He asked the Alumni to keep sending in news items and stated that all articles received have been published with the exception of a few which he felt were not suitable. Dr. Nicholson then made a request for biographical data on Miss Jennie Ackerman or information on where it may be secured.

Miss Brennan stated that many scholarships are available to college students and that the PTA scholarships are taken from their life membership fees. She stressed the importance of membership in this association.

President Brennan remarked that she is thinking about an all-alumni party to be held in a central area such as Johnstown or Pittsburgh. She asked several representatives if they were in favor of such a get-together, and all indicated that they would be interested and would cooperate with her if a plan for such a meeting materialized. She then mentioned the possibility of having alumni membership stressed at the meetings of the various sororities and fraternities on Alumni and Homecoming days. Miss Brennan requested that members get on three different ships—Membership, Leadership, and Scholarship and not ask the question "How well are you?" but "How well are you serving the college?"

Mrs. Audrey Graham, Chairman of the Annual Giving Fund, stated that the Annual Giving Program has been inaugurated in the fall of 1960 and that contributions for the first year, to October 1, 1961, amounted to $2,861.00. Contributions for the period October 1, 1961 to October 13, 1962 amounted to $3,138.00, making the total contributions to the fund $5,999.00. Mr. Ross McGregor add the sum of $1.00 to increase the total to $6,000.00.

There was no other old business and Miss Brennan stated that this was the time when a Nominating Committee to prepare the slate of officers for 1963 to 1965 must be elected and appointed. The By-Laws provide that two members and two alternates shall be selected by the Executive Council, two named by the President of the Association, and one named by the President of the College. She asked for nominations, and Mr. Samuel Furguele (1949) and Mrs. Anna Shaffer Maurer (1931) were nominated and duly elected. Nominations were then opened for the election of alternates. Mr. Ross McGregor (1927) and Mrs. Beatrice Birdsall Jerko (1932) were elected as alternates. Miss Brennan named Mrs. Betty McMeans Kunkle (1927) and Mrs. Nelle Dobson Chaplin (1919) to serve as her appointees. Dr. Pratt will name his appointee.

Reports were given by representatives of the various alumni units on the alumni activities in their areas: Jeannette, Mrs. Dorothy Brown; Tarentum, Miss Edith Dawson; Tri-Township, Mrs. Vivian Lovell; Indiana, Mrs. Beatrice Jerko; Pittsburgh, Miss Gladys Elcessor; and Pittsburgh North Boroughs, Mrs. Adelaide Clarke. Miss Brennan remarked that some of the active units were not represented. She also stated that the active units are the nucleus of the Alumni Association.

The President read the program for the day and stated that she hoped all would have a pleasant day on campus.

There being no further business to come before the meeting, it was upon motion adjourned at 11:30 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Marian I. Francis

College Sponsors Study in Spain Program at University of Valladolid

In the interest of better preparation of future teachers of Spanish, Indiana State College, in cooperation with the other Pennsylvania State Colleges and the Department of Public Instruction, will initiate in June, 1963, the Pennsylvania-Valladolid Study in Spain Program.

This plan will encourage future teachers of Spanish at minimum cost to spend the period of June through December after their junior year immersed in Spanish culture and language at a Spanish University.

On their return in January participants will do their student teaching, and complete requirements for graduation during the following summer. Experience of this type will be particularly significant in view of certification requirements, to be instituted October 1, 1963, for teachers of foreign languages.

Applicants are expected to have completed three years of college Spanish with an acceptable grade record. They must be able to follow lectures in Spanish and converse without major difficulty. The junior year should have been completed, though some exceptions might be made, especially if a student is specifically recommended as being sufficiently mature to profit from his study abroad.

Teachers of Spanish may share in the June to August portion of the plan. Candidates for an Arts degree are eligible if they satisfy the language requirements as stated.

Participants will report to the Indiana State campus Monday, June 10, 1963, for preliminary orientation meetings. The group will reach Spain June 13 and go to Valladolid immediately.

The remainder of June will be devoted to intensive work in practical Spanish and adjustment to the social and academic milieu. There will be a group visit to Madrid and Toledo June 25 to 27.

Content courses will begin July 1 and run until the beginning of the Christmas vacation, December 20, at which time the academic activities of the participants come to an end. It is expected that the students will return to Indiana Tuesday, December 31, 1963.

Every effort has been made to keep costs as low as possible in the interest of participation by a maximum number of future teachers. It is estimated that $1175 will finance all transportation from Indiana to Valladolid and return, certain excursions in Spain, tuition and examination fees at Valladolid, supervision by a resident director during the summer months or the entire period, and room and board. The student should plan to have sufficient funds for personal expenses, but these probably will not exceed $150.

Participants will study at the Faculty of Philosophy and letters (College of Arts and Sciences) of the University of Valladolid for a period of six months, July through December.

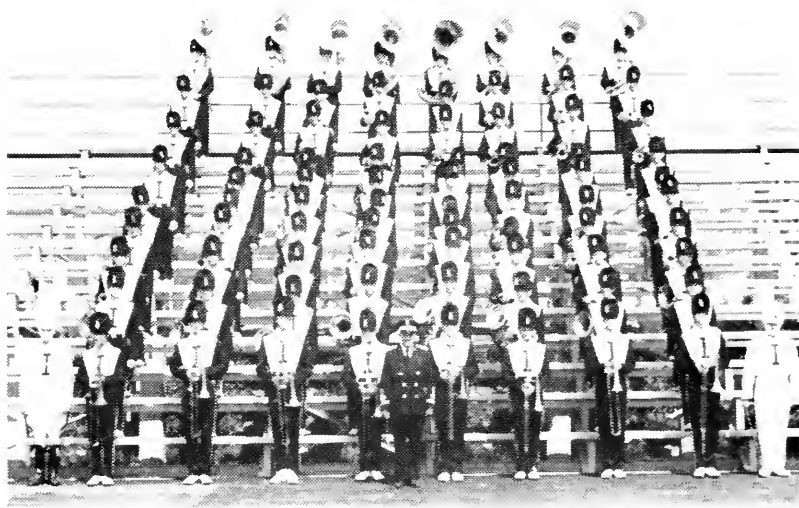

All courses are to be conducted by regular faculty members of the University of Valladolid. Excursions to museums and cities in Castile will likewise be organized by such professors and the resident director.

Indiana State College will allow a total of 30 credits for participation, 12 for the summer, 18 for the fall. The Faculty of Philosophy and Letters of the University of Valladolid will also issue the Certificado de Suficiencia to students of superior achievement.

The certificate in question specifies the quality of work performed in terms of the traditional Spanish system of grading: approved, notable, outstanding, and outstanding cum laude. Such a certificate will most certainly be of considerable value to the future teacher of Spanish when applying for a teaching position upon his return to this country.

Inquiries are welcome at any time. Applications should be made as early as possible, and no later than April 1, 1963. Address inquiries to: Pennsylvania-Valladolid Program, Department of Foreign Languages, Indiana State College, Indiana, Pennsylvania.

Big Indians Post Best Season Record Since 1940 Under Coach Chuck Mills

by Larry Judge
Sports Information Director

Indiana State College, playing in its first football season under the coaching of Chuck Mills, on November 10 completed a highly successful campaign in which the Braves far exceeded the expectations of almost everyone.

Final record for the Big Indians showed five victories against just two defeats and a tie, the best winning percentage for an ISC grid squad since George Miller's 1940 entrant posted a 7-0-1 slate.

Conference standings for the Western Divisions show the Braves deadlocked for second place with California, each winning four and losing one while playing to a 14-14 statemate to knock each other out of the race.

Slippery Rock, which fell before the Miracle Men of Mills 21-6 but which managed a 27-26 verdict over the Vulcans, copped the divisional championship with a five win-one loss card.

ISC got off to a slow start this season, losing to Shippensburg 13-7 in the last few minutes of the ball game. Junior halfback Jim Ashton was almost a one-man offense in this one, reeling off 173 yards net rushing.

The Tribe then dropped a narrow 7-6 decision to tough Westminster in the final minute of play. Don Lindich had just recovered a fumble on his own three yard line and returned it 97 yards for a touchdown moments before.

A new electric scoreboard got its first workout November 10 at Miller Stadium. The board was presented through the cooperation of the Student Council and the Student Cooperative Association.

Undaunted by these two defeats, the Big Indians surprised Edinboro 14-0 in the following game for their first victory. Sophomore halfback Jimmy Wolfe, out the first two games with an injury, made a big difference.

Playing before a Homecoming crowd of 7500, the Indians came up with their second straight upset in defeating a good Juniata eleven 14-6 in a contest which saw the Braves intercept a grand total of eight passes.

Traveling to Clarion the following week, Indiana State just did pull out a 17-10 decision in the final minute of play after Ashton intercepted a pass on his own 33 and returned it to the Golden Eagle ten yard line.

Then came two very big conference ball games. ISC handled the first assignment with surprising ease, defeating Slippery Rock 21-6. It was clear that the Rockets hadn't been looking for anything like this.

California then paid a visit to Indiana, carrying with them some very good credentials. But the Big Indians surprised everyone but themselves in holding the Vulcans to a tie, and indeed they almost won.

Hoping against hope that they might still rate the league title if Clarion could only stop Slippery Rock, the Redskins last Saturday finished up a fine campaign with a 28-0 whipping of Lock Haven.

Mills and his staff—associate coaches Owen Dougherty, Norm Lewandowski and Gene Lepley, are hopeful that next season just might bring the Indiana College its first championship since 1940.

They lose just six seniors from this year's team—captain and quarterback Joe Saffron, fullback Jerry Blank, guard and linebacker Ron Peters, linebacker Steve Barczy and defensive corner men Tony Krasowski and Ed Kruk.

Mills carried just 35 men on his squad and virtually all of them saw a lot of action. So he will have 29 experienced ball players to work with next season. And the current freshman team was undefeated.

Coaches N. Lewandowski, G. Lepley, O. Dougherty and C. Mills.

Education, Liberal Arts, Graduate Schools Are Now Organized

Indiana State College has now been organized into three schools, a school of education, a school of liberal arts, and a graduate school, Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college, states.

Approval of the organization of Indiana State College into a three school form was voted by the College Board of Trustees at its annual fall meeting, Dr. Pratt said.

Dr. I. L. Stright is dean of the graduate school, Dr. George A. W. Stouffer who is dean of undergraduate studies, will be dean of the school of education, and for the remainder of 1962-63 Dr. Stouffer will also act as dean of the liberal arts school.

At the beginning of the 1963-64 term the College will have a full time dean of the school of liberal arts.

Dr. Ralph W. Cordier serves as the dean of academic affairs for the entire college, Dr. Pratt said.

The graduate school now offers master of education degree work with majors in art education, business education, elementary education, English, geography, guidance, mathematics, music education, biological science, physical science, science, and social sciences.

In the school of education Indiana State College offers the bachelor of science degree with areas of specialization which include art education, music education, home economics, business, biological science, chemistry, physics, science, English and speech, speech correction, dental hygiene, driver education, elementary education, French, geography, German, history, mathematics, public school nursing, safety education, social studies, and Spanish.

In liberal arts Indiana State College is authorized to offer study in the humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences with concentrations in English, speech and theater, art, music, Spanish, French, German, mathematics, biology, chemistry, physics, earth science, history, political science, anthropology-sociology, economics, philosophy, and psychology.

In further action at the fall meeting of the Board of Trustees, trustees approved the appointment of Dr. Arthur F. Nicholson, who is now serving as director of public relations at the college, to also serve as director of college off-campus centers effective October 15, Dr. Pratt said.

Indiana State College now has an off-campus center operating in Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, and is planning to open a second center for the Armstrong Country area in the fall of 1963-64. Details for this center are in the process of being worked out at this time.

A third off-campus center may be opened in the Ligonier area if the citizens of that vicinity designate they would like Indiana to operate a center there.

Members of the Indiana State College Board of Trustees include Patrick F. McCarthy of Punxsutawney as president, James L. O'Toole of Sharon as vice-president, Robert Reynolds of Pittsburgh as secretary, Carl S. Weyandt of Indiana as treasurer.

Curtis J. Clay of Braddock, Earl R. Handler of Indiana, James Hughes of Champion, Dr. A. R. Pechan of Ford City, and R. Dudley Tonkin of Cherry Tree.

AN APOLOGY

● Your treasurer wishes to apologize to the Pittsburgh Alumni Unit for an error in bookkeeping which appeared in her report for the period May 27, 1961 to May 26, 1962. A contribution of $150.00 was in error credited to the Annual Giving Fund instead of to the General Account. The credit to the Pittsburgh Unit in the report which appeared on page 4 of the October 1962 bulletin should have been as follows:

Pittsburgh Unit—Alumni
Dues	$139.50
Pittsburgh Unit—contribution to General Fund	$150.00

This error has been corrected by transferring the sum of $150.00 from the Annual Giving Fund to the General Account.

Signed: Mary L. Esch, Treasurer

WASHINGTON, D. C. UNIT

● The Annual Picnic of the Washington, D. C. Unit of Indiana State College was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Anderson in Chevy Chase, Maryland.

Members brought their own baskets and the hostess served delicious coffee and tea. Fortunately, the cloudy weather disappeared long enough for all to enjoy their food and conversation before the rain began to fall.

All retired to the Anderson's living room where a delightful evening had been planned for us. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sutherland showed a colored film entitled, "Where Sea Meets Shore." The film, was a descriptive and authentic study of bird life along the shores of the East Coast.

The Sutherlands' traveled from Maine to the Carolinas (along the coast) to secure the film, and the results of their study have been most rewarding. They have shown their films of birds to over fifty Audobon Society Chapters in Massachusetts and other parts of the Northeastern United States. Our Unit has had the pleasure of viewing several in their interesting collection.

After the usual prolonged departures, and thanking our hosts, we said farewell with promises to meet at the Alumni Dinner which will be held November 16.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Anderson, Mrs. Ruth Brillhart (our President), Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell (parents of Mrs. Brillhart), Mrs. Mary Piranian, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Geinger, Mr. Charles Geinger (father of Mr. Geinger), Mrs. Nora Hay McKirdy, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. William Whittington, Mrs. Theresa Bishop, Col. and Mrs. Forest Shaffer, and Mrs. James T. To All Alumni of Indiana State College

Your Alma Mater, Indiana State College, continues to grow in many ways—in enrollment, in facilities, and in programs.

The enrollment of the college now numbers 3,871 undergraduate students and 740 part-time students (most of whom are graduate students), a total of 4611 in all. This makes Indiana the largest state college in Pennsylvania and the seventh largest of all colleges and universities in the Commonwealth. To cope with this increase in enrollment, many new facilities will be completed during the next two years. These include three women's dormitories named Agnes Sligh Turnbull, Mabel Waller Mack, and Hope Stewart Halls by the Board of Trustees.

A few weeks ago we dedicated the beautiful athletic facility known as the George P. Miller Stadium. This stadium was initiated by the General Alumni Association more than five years ago and has been developed by many organizations and individuals, including the General State Authority, Departments of Property and Supplies and Public Instruction of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; The Syntron, J. S. Mack, and The McCreary Foundations, The General Alumni Association, students and parents of students; and The Chamber of Commerce and friends of the College too numerous to mention.

Other new facilities to be constructed this year and next will include a Home Economics building, a men's dormitory, a women's dormitory, a new two million dollar field house, a dining hall, the reconstruction of the Thaddeus Stevens School for classroom purposes, and a new addition to the Student Union Building by the Student Cooperative Association.

With the addition of the liberal arts curriculum and the institution of graduate studies, Indiana has now become a multi-purpose institution, having three schools—a school of education, a school of liberal arts, and a graduate school.

Three years ago The Alumni Association instituted a campaign of annual giving by which each member was asked to pledge an amount of $3, $5, or $10 each year to support his college. The "Annual Giving Fund" will enable The Alumni Association to prepare the materials such as The Alumni Bulletin, The Alumni News Letter and other publications sent to alumni members. This fund will also enable The Alumni Association to have a part in the expanding program of the college.

Since this is a state institution, alumni may not feel the responsibility for supporting their Alma Mater; but since every student who attended Indiana was the recipient of a sizable share of the costs of his education, I feel confident that we can count on many of our alumni for their support.

I trust that many of you will find it possible to return to the College very soon to witness the growth and development of the college.

With kindest personal regards,

Very cordially yours,
Willis E. Pratt
President
